

PUBLISHED DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY,
AT THE STAR BUILDINGS,
1101 Pennsylvania Avenue, Cor. 11th Street, by
The Evening Star Newspaper Company,
S. H. KAUFFMANN, President.
New York Office, 49 Potter Building.

The Evening Star is served to subscribers in the city by carriers, at their own account, at 10 cents per copy, in advance, or 15 cents per copy, in arrears. Outside of the city, at 15 cents per copy, in advance, or 20 cents per copy, in arrears. By mail, prepaid—50 cents per month.
Saturday Quintuple Sheet Star, $1 per year, with full postal postage paid.
(Entered at the Post Office at Washington, D. C., as second-class matter.)
All mail subscriptions must be paid in advance. Rates of advertising made known on application.

SPAIN WILL PROTEST

The Premier to Object to Senatorial Adjectives.

ALL THE COUNTRY AROUSED

Press and Authorities Counsel Prudence.

IN THE FOREIGN CAPITALS

LONDON, March 2.—The Pall Mall Gazette today has a dispatch from Madrid, which says: "Although Spain recognizes the absolute independence of the American States, without admitting the possibility of intervention, the premier intends to point out to the American government the injustice of some of the language of the Senators. He also proposes to point out the ridiculousness of the pretensions of the Cuban rebels, whose savage acts, it is claimed, merit the condemnation of civilized nations."

"For them to be considered on an equal footing with the Spanish troops, and to grant such men belligerent rights is considered in some quarters to be simply a pretext for a quarrel with Spain. The government, in any case, is preparing for all eventualities. The patriotism of the nation has been completely aroused, but the authorities and press counsel prudence. At the same time there is a determination to vindicate the nation's honor."

Asked to Grant Cuba Freedom.

MADRID, Spain, March 2.—Dispatches received here from Havana state that the newspapers of that city are unanimous in condemning the action of the United States Senate. It is added that the liberals declare that "bandits cannot be belligerents." Gen. Weyler advises the inhabitants to be prudent.

The Herald says that the president of the republic of Ecuador has asked the queen regent of Spain to grant the independence of Cuba.

Advice received by the Imperialist says that the Cuban insurgents of New York are preparing to issue a loan of $100,000,000, of which a portion will be expended in Cuba to these advisers, to American Senators and Representatives, "on condition that they obtain recognition of the Cuban Republic."

The Imperialist and the El Liberal continue today their vehement protests against the action of the United States Senate. The Journal first named said:

"The Americans wish to attack us because they believe us to be weak. This is coward-

Deal Between France and Spain.

BERLIN, March 2.—A dispatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung from New York says that great distrust has been created there by the report that secret negotiations are in progress between France and Spain which, it is stated, refer to the diplomatic attitude of France against the intervention of the United States in Cuba.

The dispatch adds: "The contingency has been reckoned on in New York of Spain securing the support of France by the cession of islands such as the Canaries or at least the islands of Morocco. Many French holders of Spanish and Spanish-Cuban bonds are alarmed at the French government to protect them."

Bosville Paris Views.

PARIS, March 2.—Considerable attention is attracted to the Cuban situation, which, for the present, has the lead in political editorial comment, and is a subject of discussion in the clubs and other places where military men and politicians gather daily.

The Figaro, commenting on the action of the United States, says that while the "insurgent" vote resulting from the violent attitude of Gen. Weyler, and the recall of Marshal Martinez de Campos was a double error, externally and internally, the French government has not been able to bring about a settlement.

The Journal blames the United States Senate for "palliating the outrages of the insurgents and condemning the repressive measures of Gen. Weyler," adding: "Europe one day will have to unite against the United States, which is applying the Monroe doctrine."

The Libre Parole, expressing its opinion, says: "The intervention of the United States at every turn is as ridiculous as it is aggressive. Spain, which has been at war for a decade, will not retreat before Sherman, the brother of the slayer of the Colorado Indians."

The Horse Rechristened.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The steamer "Horse," which was seized by the federal authorities in Philadelphia for attempting to carry arms and ammunition to the Cuban revolutionists, arrived in this port today under the British flag and rechristened the "River Clyde." Capt. Cook of the "Tyrian" was commander. The steamer was bought by Mr. McIntyre, in conjunction with Capt. Cook, and the intention is to place her on a fruit route to Jamaica or Cuba.

Chicago Cubans to Act.

CHICAGO, March 2.—It is expected that some action will be taken by the Cubans in Chicago to show their appreciation of the recent action of the United States Senate in taking an official interest in the war for liberty in Cuba.

Mr. E. Domiguez, vice president of the Cuban junta, will arrive in Chicago today. He will make his headquarters at the Palmer House. Senator Domiguez fought the "River Clyde" case in the United States court, and the intention is to place her on a fruit route to Jamaica or Cuba.

Capt. Woodward, formerly of the Cuban army, arrived from St. Paul, Minn., last night. Over one hundred applications were made there during the past week for service with the Cuban army.

EARTHQUAKE IN KANSAS.

A Shock Felt at Caldwell That Caused No Damage.

CALDWELL, Kan., March 2.—A distinct earthquake shock was felt here at 7:15 o'clock last night. It passed from the south to the north, and lasted about four seconds. No damage was done.

Gov. Greenhalge's Condition.

BOSTON, March 2.—Gov. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

Mr. Greenhalge is in a comfortable condition, and the doctors are hopeful.

No. 13,415.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

MONDAY, MARCH 2,

1896 TWELVE PAGES.

TWO CENTS.

THE SPANISH MINISTER

Senor Dupuy de Lome Talks at Some Length to a Star Reporter.

He Says the Press Has Misrepresented the Condition of Affairs in Cuba.

According to the Spanish minister he has received no further news from his home government than has already been published in the American papers. He told a Star reporter this morning that he had received no word direct from Madrid with reference either to the action of the Senate last week or to the disorders in Barcelona yesterday.

"My position, as you can readily understand," continued Senor Dupuy de Lome, "is a very delicate one just now, and it is not within my province to discuss the matter at all. Even if I knew a great deal more about things than has already been printed, would be a distinct violation of diplomatic customs to say a word to the press. But I do not. If the Spanish government should take any action with reference to the stand that Congress has taken yesterday evening in the following cablegram from United States Minister Hannis Taylor at Madrid:

"Minister of state has just called to express deep regret that mob has insulted Barcelona consulate, breaking windows, and has offered complete reparation. He informed me that government on its own motion has taken every precaution to guard legation and my residence. I have asked no protection."

"For the last twenty-four hours I have been overrun with representatives of all the prominent newspapers, who seem to be under the impression that in some way I have been made the repository of a tremendous amount of secret news, while in reality that is anything but the case. Moreover, the press of the United States has throughout the whole affair taken a very unjust position on the Cuban question. The Star is about the worst of all. You are within my house as a gentleman and I treat you as such, but I speak only as a man and not as a minister of Spain. As such when your card was presented to me it would have been my duty to tell the butler that I must decline to see you. For the Star has taken a thoroughly biased and prejudiced stand and has done the Spanish cause a great deal of harm. This was made possible by the tremendous influence the Star wields at the national capital."

Effect on the Cuban Rebellion.

"The rebellion in Cuba never would have been a serious matter at all had it not been for the interference of the United States. It is now a mere riot, and the limits of mere riot had it not been for the money, supplies, arms and men that were sent from this country. Men have gone from this country with the assurance that the United States would extend belligerent rights to the Cubans and would in all probability send a fleet to Cuba. This has been the worst mistake of no time have the authorities in this country given the situation in Cuba a fair investigation to ascertain what the facts actually are. They have not. They have only been active interested in the rebellion, but the truth of the matter is that the United States has been a thoroughgoing enemy of the Cuban cause. It has sent a hundred Cuban officers fighting in the Spanish army in Cuba. In fact, I am sure there are more Cuban officers in the Spanish army than there are white leaders among the insurgents."

Similar Incidents in This Country.

"All this I am telling you from what I know personally and not in my official capacity. As to the troubles in Barcelona I am not in a position to speak. For I know nothing about it now beyond what I have read in the papers. I have been here on occasion on an exalted people, but the Americans should remember that in the United States they have been attacked in this country. This was done during the riots at New Orleans, where the building was destroyed, worse than anything done at Barcelona. Attacking consulates has never been required to rule in the United States. It is usually the work of an irresponsible mob, crazed by the excitement of the occasion. Yet you will notice that far better police force has been maintained in the United States prompt reparation was made not by way of an indemnity, but simply to make up to the consul personally for the furniture and equipment that was broken. I am confident that Spain will without delay take similar action with reference to the Barcelona incident."

Expert Counters.

Those Authorized Will Be Taken From the List Discharged a Year Ago.

It is expected that Secretary Carlisle will announce twenty-five expert counters in a day or two. Provision for their employment is contained in the urgent deficiency bill, which has just become a law by executive approval. The appropriation was for twenty-five expert counters at $720 per annum each. They are greatly needed in the treasury's office to assist in the work of making up the national bank notes in for redemption.

Sixty-four women engaged on this work were discharged last March because of a decision of the controller of the treasury that there was no legal authority for their employment. The women had been paid out of national bank notes sent in for redemption.

Major J. H. Patterson of the third infantry is at the Elliott.

Robert C. Burke, chief clerk of the House, will be in charge of the office of the Hotel Champlain, at Lake Champlain, N. Y., the coming season.

John A. Goe, general passenger agent of the Atlanta and West Point railroad, is at the Metropolitan.

Mr. Eckels, controller of the currency, has returned from a visit to New England. Secretary Carlisle resumed his duties at the Treasury Department this morning, after a short visit to Elizabeth, N. J.

Lieut. Charles Byrne, sixth infantry, has reported at the War Department for duty.

Mr. K. M. Landis of Chicago is in the city to confer with the Attorney General in regard to the proceedings against the so-called beef trust. He is special assistant attorney for the United States in those cases.

THE CASE OF SPAIN

Comments on the Barcelona Incident in Official Circles.

GOVERNMENT RESPONSIBILITY DENIED

No Notice Will Probably Be Taken of the Occurrence.

VIEWS AT THE CAPITOL

The excitement in Spain over the action of the United States Senate, leading up to the insult to the United States consulate at Barcelona, fails to find a corresponding reflex in Washington. At least in official circles, and almost everywhere the feeling is general that the affair is not one which necessarily leads to hostilities. It appears that Secretary Olney was officially advised of the outbreak at Barcelona early yesterday evening in the following cablegram from United States Minister Hannis Taylor at Madrid:

"Minister of state has just called to express deep regret that mob has insulted Barcelona consulate, breaking windows, and has offered complete reparation. He informed me that government on its own motion has taken every precaution to guard legation and my residence. I have asked no protection."

From the terms of the minister's message it would seem that Senor Dupuy de Lome had previously called a brief statement of the attack upon the consulate, but if so, the message could not be obtained here for publication. However that may be, it is certain that the Spanish minister here, Senor de Lome, has made no official statement of the facts to the United States government. He has only been at home and lost no time yesterday in communicating to Secretary Olney the facts of the case. He has only been at home and lost no time yesterday in communicating to Secretary Olney the facts of the case. He has only been at home and lost no time yesterday in communicating to Secretary Olney the facts of the case.

Senator Lodge's Views.

Senator Lodge said: "The news from Spain is great. It shows that the Spanish people and the Spanish editors utterly fail to comprehend the situation here. They forget that they recognized the belligerency of the confederacy within three months after Sumter, while we allowed ten years to pass in the last Cuban war and one year in the case of Mexico. We have shown a long forbearance, which they failed to show to us. I cannot believe that the Spanish authorities have taken ample steps for the protection of the American representatives at all Spanish ports, with a view to rendering impossible a repetition of Sunday's experience."

Senator Sherman and Lindsay.

Senator Sherman, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said: "The Spanish people felt hurt at the passage of the resolution by the Senate, and I expected some such outbreak. It does not, however, change my opinion of the wisdom of the action by the Senate. I do not think the incident will lead to any trouble between the United States and Spain. The United States is not in the habit of making a show of force. It is not in the habit of making a show of force. It is not in the habit of making a show of force."

Senator Hale's Opinion.

Senator Hale, one of the six Senators voting against the resolution, said: "The action taken was hasty and unwarranted by the circumstances of the war. In the first place, I think Congress can find some better business, which concerns affairs at home, than in seeking to embroil the country with a foreign war. I do not think the United States is in the habit of making a show of force. It is not in the habit of making a show of force. It is not in the habit of making a show of force."

No Further Official Notice.

The prompt action of the Spanish government in so completely meeting the demands of outraged international etiquette is given as the reason for the assumption by our government of this serene and forbearing attitude, and in view of the official circles as for the United States to follow this Barcelona incident is afforded by the course of affairs in the Navy and War departments, which ran along today in the usual quiet and unexcited manner. The slightest sign of preparation of ships or troops or military stores, which might have been taken, it was felt that an emergency existed.

The Senate Debate.

So far as can be learned the Spanish government has not officially taken notice of the proceedings and debate in the Senate last week upon the Cuban resolutions, and it can be stated that our government certainly does not expect to have the subject matter of discussions in our Congress made a basis of argument for any foreign power. Such action would be regarded as an unwarrantable interference in the internal affairs of our government.

Our Representation in Spain.

In view of the intensity of Spanish feeling against Americans at present, steps will promptly be taken to insure the protection of the government's representatives in Spain as well as of all citizens of the United States who may be temporarily sojourning there. The official representation of the United States in Spain at present is as follows:

At Madrid—Mr. Hannis Taylor of Alabama, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary; H. Clay Armstrong of Alabama, secretary of legation; Capt. J. H. Perkins, military attaché, and Lieut. Colonel J. M. W. Wyser of Virginia, vice consul.

At Barcelona—Herbert W. Bowen of New York, consul general; H. Rider of Spain, deputy consul general.

At Cadix—Chas. L. Adams of Mississippi, consul; Wm. W. Wyser of Virginia, vice consul.

At Alicante—Wm. L. Gire of Spain, consul, and John L. Gire of Massachusetts, vice consul.

At Cartagena—Cirilo Molina of Spain, consul, and Alberto Molina of Spain, vice consul.

At Corunna—Julio Harmony of New York, consul; Raimundo Molina of Spain, vice consul.

At Malaga—David N. Burke of Vermont, consul, and Thomas R. Geary of Spain, vice consul.

There are also a number of consular officers in the Canary Islands, Philippine Islands, and Porto Rico, as well as many commercial agents scattered throughout Spain and its dominions.

Mr. Hannis Taylor who occupies the responsible post of United States minister to Spain, is regarded at the State Department as a careful and prudent officer, who can be depended upon to conduct the pending delicate negotiations, involving as they do a possible rupture between the two countries, in a wise and patriotic manner. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is specially well fitted for his task, because of his thorough acquaintance with international law and procedure. He is the author of the history of the English constitution which has been accepted as a text book by the United States Supreme Court several years ago, in opposition to the course of the Louisiana lottery. Although the court decided against him he was generally congratulated upon the strength of his argument. He is a resident of the United States, and is